

ANNOUNCING:

THE WISE IRISH WOMEN FOUNDATION
FOR SCHOLARSHIPS AND CHILDREN'S CHARITIES

As we have mentioned, our families valued education and considered it a gift to their children. We share that vision and cherish the gift of education we received.

Trícia and I are pleased to announce that we are forming the Wise Irish Women Foundation to provide scholarships for present and future "wise women" of all backgrounds and connections. We also intend to support children's charities that focus on building character and providing opportunities for educational advancement. Most important, we hope we can assist, in some small way, in helping other women and children see their dreams come true.

At the present time, one dollar from every book sold will be donated to the foundation. We hope our book is so wildly successful that this number will grow exponentially in the future. Again, thank you for helping us honor our Grandmother, Peggy Prendergast, Trícia's mother, Pat Prendergast Connorton and my father, Thomas Aidan Prendergast.
